

Health & Safety

We are taking the COVID-19 pandemic very seriously and doing our utmost to continue running our business with the highest precautionary measures in place.

To put your mind at ease, here are some facts regarding our business:

Over and above our usual food safety standards we are undertaking extra sanitizing of all packaging and preparation spaces used to create The Whisky Rebellion Box, or any of our products.

If you utilise one of our in-person presentations, our presenters are now equipped with alcohol based sanitiser and will not arrive at a venue without it. They have been trained to follow a protocol of not handling any glassware, mats or tasting paraphernalia without thoroughly sanitising beforehand.

Presenters will wear gloves when clearing tables and will have medical masks on hand if clients would prefer they wear one during the presentation.

We will only allow staff into our warehouse or out to an event that are completely healthy, showing no signs or symptoms of illness.

Our warehouse, stock, glassware, packaging and tasting paraphernalia are kept clean and sanitized.

xx the Whisky Rebellion team